Dream by Clay Nash

On the morning of July the 3rd, I rose and started my day, I began to almost immediately remember a dream that had come during the night. This dream was incredibly significant to me. In what is now years of dreaming there is a pattern of which the sooner I remember my dream the more weight of significance the dream carries. Under the weight of this dream I began to cry. In this dream the Justice Gate angel asked me to sit down, give full attention and listen intensely as the information to be given me was of the highest level of significance. And that I was not to be distracted in anyway from what was being given to me of the Lord. I sensed at this point that the presence of Angels was filling the room. So as I set aside time this morning to get this dream written out and remember the details of the dream, I began to have an encounter with the Lord and the room that I was in, became even more filled with the presence of God, and there was a focus that came to me that was very significant and highly intense. The Justice Gate angel then spoke to me about a dream that had come earlier, back in June. In that dream Justice Gate Angel said the bishop piece is being removed from the board. As I prayed into that, I knew it was about a chessboard, but I know it carries a significance that I am not in full understanding as of yet.

The Justice Gate angel then said, “The bishop piece being removed from the board is triggering a line of demarcation that must come to the United States of America. This line of demarcation will bring shock and awe to all, not just to the left, not just to the right, not just to the Christians, and not just to those that are not followers of Jesus. This line of demarcation will set into motion exposures, revealings, triggering, repentance and it will thrust forth an awakening that is essential to the future of America.” Many have put their trust in the fact that the left or right are the answer to the problem. But the Justice Gate Angel said, “Watch and see and understand that this line of demarcation will cause all eyes to be put upon God, for it is no longer a time that man can trust in his own strength. It's time for man to discover the highways of Zion and therefore understand their only strength is found in God the Father. The revolution needed for the future to resolve the civil war that rages can only come as the Father’s law becomes the highest law of the land. Freedom of speech has now become freedom to call truth a lie and a lie the truth. Without Heaven backing the constitution it has no authority. Without God’s people becoming Truth in this Nation there will only be civil disruption and disobedience that will fuel disasters. David, God’s chosen stayed home at the time kings should go to war. He rose from his passive slothfulness at evening time and step into the sin of compromise that compromised not only his family but also the Nation of Israel.” The Justice Gate Angel then said, “Many who have called upon the Lord’s Name have now allowed the songs of religion to sing them to sleep. While many have slept the tares have been sown. Now is the time of demarcation so that even as Angels remove tares the Lord will remove the blindness of many. Hearts will be changed. Minds will be renewed. Family's will be restored. Father's will return home. America is destined to be filled with peace, and God's people are to be deeply rooted and refreshed. The Father desires to bring a divine reset, but in order to do so He must bring a divine upset by bringing forth marital law filled with shock and awl."
