Prophetic over Idaho
By Regina Shank

Idaho, you are the unlocking state, the keeper of the keys. You must keep those keys from being stolen or replicated; they cannot be replicated by religion. You will rise from overwhelming circumstances, climb the mountain, and claim the territory I have given you. Do not be pushed back by the news of adversity; do not be swayed by the naysayers; listen to my voice and the voice of the watchmen. Say what I say, say what the prophets are decreeing and begin to see the coming forth of my Word. You are in a birthing season; what has been planted will now come forth.

You are as the Bamboo that takes about three years to get established. Once established the new shoots that emerge in the Spring and will continue to get bigger and more numerous from year to year as the colony grows towards maturity. Keep planting and you will see the suddenlies bring forth what was hidden underground. Your intercession seeds have hidden themselves but will burst forth at the arrival of my Son, at the arrival of the revival. Get ready for the sprouts are appearing through the soil of the hearts of many. Be the stewards that are found trustworthy; be the watchmen who stand on the walls to warn. Be still and know that I am God. It is coming. Get ready. My favor is upon you in this season.

Idaho, You can work it out or you can dig it out. It is not work; it is revelation. Dig it out; there is treasure in the Word that I have sent you to discover. Seek and you will find fresh instructions, and fresh strategy. I saw a saw cut off the legs of some seats in the legislature. Let them fall.
