Dream by Clay Nash

In a dream this week the Justice Gate Angel said we must pray for Jim Thorpe's third touchdown. Jim Thorpe was one of my heroes. I did a term paper in school about him. But in the dream Jim Thorpe was playing football and the wind was behind the kicker. The kicker kicked the football, and Jim caught it on the third yard line and then ran it for a touchdown, only to find out there had been a flag on the play. The kicker kicked a second time, Jim caught it on the zero and ran it for a touchdown. Again there was a flag on the play. The third time the kicker kicked it Jim caught it in the end zone and ran it for a touchdown. Jim's team won the game as there was no flag on the play this time.

There is a couple things God has given me as I prayed into this. Number one, we can't look at the circumstances. Many players would become defeated after running for a touchdown with a flag on the play. But Jim didn't. He put just as much passion and effort into the third run as the first.

So, Father, I decree out of this dream a Jim Thorpe third touchdown, a miraculous touchdown crossing the goal in this election.
