Prophetic over Colorado

By Pat McManus

The place of restoration is coming to you.

The wells of refreshing are blowing. Winds of change are coming. The time for the shaking of the ungodly structures will begin in this time. The dismantling of old systems is coming. Amos 9:11

Prophetic over Colorado

By Kit Strickler

Oh, Colorado, your name is spelled beginning first with color. Look to me and do not cry and do not weep, but rejoice in the Lord and know that the color of your state is about to change. Look unto me, pray and even seek for my spirit to come into the schools and colleges. For it is my desire to use your young people to bring about color change in the state of Colorado. Know that my arms are around you and know that my heart is with you, says the Lord. Do not weep in sadness. Rejoice, for I am your victory.
