Prophetic over Washington
By Jacquie Tyre

Washington, long under siege and caught in the narrow place with troubles on your left and troubles on your right, fears before you and disappointments behind. While many have shrunk back and others have abandoned ship, I see a faithful remnant keeping the fires on the altar burning night and day, day and night.

And, I would say to you this day, that reinforcements are riding in to strengthen and fortify your troops in the midst of the battle. For the sound of your faith-filled intercession and the decrees you have made even in the midst of darkness, trials and tribulations have been heard. The reinforcements are gathering and mounting into position to come into the land to push back the darkness, expose the hidden things, and cause even those things done in back-rooms to be brought out into the light.

Watch and see as I bring into full exposure those back room deals that have caused this land to be held captive and even sold into the hands of those who have purposed to destroy what I intend to restore. For the enemy has overplayed his hand and misjudged the power of My covenant and My purposes for this land known as Washington.

For generation upon generation I have watched over this land and looked to hear and see the movement of the righteous rising across this land, and now I see and now I shall move to fulfill that for which I have intended from the beginning.

Watch and see the exposures, as painful as they will be, give way to healing and restoration. Be careful to not shrink back from the battle at the gates as the covers are pulled back and the hidden works of darkness are exposed, for this is necessary for the healing and restoration to come forth in the days ahead.

Washington shall display My glory and reveal the power of My grace to many who have thought that such a thing could not be. Watch and see as I do exceedingly, abundantly above what you could ask, think or imagine, for this is My delight.

Prophetic over Washington

The wind of the Spirit is about to blow. I'm causing that mountain of resistance to move. I'm igniting my army and the sound of advancement is being heard. Get ready to advance at my sound. Ezekiel 37:9
